DESCRIPTION

The DataMasters Home Health Care Nurses mailing list allows you to reach nursing healthcare professionals at their personal email address who provide in-home care.

This mailing list consists of nursing professionals such as Registered Nurses (RN), Licensed Practical Nurses (LPN), and Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioners (AN) who provide health care to the disabled, injured, and elderly in their own homes. These professionals offer companionship and can provide assistance with personal care, administering medications, monitoring blood pressure, wound care, physical therapy, nutrition therapy, injections, and some light duty housekeeping. Health care provided at home is often less expensive than nursing facilities and gives the patient the opportunity and freedom to stay in the familiar surroundings of their own home.

Purchasers of this mailing list would include hospital supply retailers, supplement providers, pharmaceuticals, mental health organizations, medical apparel suppliers, continuing education providers, mobility aid providers, physical therapy aid providers, and nutritional food providers.
